VISUAL STORYTELLING WITH REZA PAKRAVAN

Professional explorer and filmmaker with TV series' for BBC, Fox, C4, CBC & Aljazeera

CREATE STRONG, UNIQUE COMPELLING NARRATIVES AND COMMUNICATE YOUR VISUAL MESSAGE WITH MAXIMUM IMPACT.

SUMMARY

With hundreds of films in the adventure market, it can be difficult to make yours stand out. Making a compelling film is about having a strong story, and telling that story with powerful visuals. It's about the way you use your adventure as a chain to link smaller, in-depth stories together. This workshop explores how you find the right story and characters, develop the most compelling narratives, and tell them in the most engaging ways.

It's the story that matters, and Reza will walk you through the creative process starting at the very beginning, and highlight the practical steps required to help you start from small screenings with friends and family to entering the adventure and outdoors filmmaking market and make a living from it.

YOU WILL LEARN HOW TO:

- Generate, prioritise and select ideas
- Storyboard and generate ideas
- Master the pre and post-production process
- Shoot to edit
- Choose what to shoot and what not to shoot
- Tell visually compelling stories through the power of a lens
- Use research methods that give you novel insights to differentiate your story.

"I provide a step by step guidance on how to develop and form your story from the idea stage and the overarching narrative, to full-scale production."

ABOUT REZA

Reza Pakravan is an explorer, filmmaker and writer. He is a fellow of the RGS and a recipient of the 2019 Neville Shulman Explorer Award from the Scientific Exploration Society.

His documentaries, talks and books have taken audiences on his epic journeys to some of the most remote corners of the world. He has presented and produced prime time TV series aired worldwide on networks such as BBC, Channel 4, Fox CBC and Aljazeera.

Reza recently has completed his epic journey to become the first person in modern history to have travelled the full length of the Africa from West to East via the Sahel region.
